Introduction

Central Oregon Community College, the oldest two-year college in Oregon, provides comprehensive college services to the residents of its 10,000-square-mile district.

COCC offers two-year associate degrees, transfer/lower division programs, career and technical education degrees and certificates, developmental courses, continuing education and community learning classes, industry-specific training programs, and business management assistance.

The College's main campus is located on the western edge of Bend, a city known for its natural beauty and its proximity to diverse recreational opportunities. The location affords spectacular views of the mountains from nearly every point on the 201-acre campus.

The Redmond Campus, located 20 miles north on 25 acres near the Redmond Municipal Airport, offers all of the courses necessary to earn an associate degree. In addition, it is the home of the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center. COCC also operates campuses in Madras and Prineville where students have access to a variety of credit and non-credit courses and student services.

A branch of Oregon State University was opened on the Bend campus in fall 2001. OSU-Cascades offers 16 accredited undergraduate majors with 25 minors and degree options plus two graduate degree options.

Board Members

A seven-member board of directors governs the College, with members of that board elected from geographic zones in its 10,000-square-mile District.

Mission, Vision, Themes

Our Mission

Central Oregon Community College promotes student success and community enrichment by providing quality, accessible, lifelong educational opportunities.

Our Vision Statement

To achieve student success and community enrichment, COCC fosters student completion of academic goals, prepares students for employment, assists regional employers and promotes equitable achievement for the diverse students and communities we serve.

Themes

Institutional Sustainability

Students will have the opportunity to be successful because the College has planned and invested appropriately to ensure high quality programs, services and facilities that support student learning and educational achievement.

Transfer and Articulation

Students will have the academic achievement and skills necessary to transfer and articulate successfully to institutions of higher learning beyond the community college level.

Workforce Development

Students will be prepared for employment through the acquisition of knowledge and discipline-specific, employment skills necessary to meet current industry needs.

Themes, continued

Basic Skills

Students will have academic achievements and basic learning skills necessary to participate effectively as engaged community and family members, and employees, and to succeed at the college level.

Lifelong Learning

Lifelong learning provides accessible, noncredit learning opportunities to our community in the areas of Enrichment, Professional Development, Technology and Wellness.

COCC President

Dr. James E. Middleton

Dr. James E. Middleton

Dr. James E. Middleton is completing his tenth year as president of COCC. He is scheduled to retire June 30, 2014.

In that time, he has overseen the College during a period of unprecedented growth—an increase of 100 percent in four years in student credit enrollment; helped present to the community a bond measure approved in 2009 that is resulting in $54 million for construction of five buildings throughout the COCC District; and shepherded the successful $3 million fund-raising campaign for a new culinary arts facility. He has worked to forge closer relationships with educational partners in the region, resulting in significant increases in the number of college courses available to high school students, and a strengthened partnership with OSU-Cascades, the state's first branch campus.

Previously, Middleton served as president of the College of Marin in California (1993 to 2003) and was a visiting scholar at the Community College Leadership Development Initiatives at Claremont Graduate University in California. Prior to moving to Marin, he spent 11 years at Pennsylvania College of Technology in Williamsport, as a division director, dean and vice president.

Dr. Middleton holds five academic degrees including his doctorate from the University of Michigan.

COCC History

- 1949 COCC opens with four part-time faculty members conducting classes for 109 students during the evenings in the basement of Bend High School.
- 1954 On the fifth anniversary, the students recommend changing the name to Central Oregon College.
- 1955 College Foundation is formed.
- 1957 Don Pence is appointed the College's first president.
- 1962 Central Oregonians approve the 10,000-square-mile College District and later elect the first District board.
- 1962 The R.L. Coats family donates 140 acres on the west side of Awbrey Butte for the campus.
- 1964 Nearly 700 students and 35 full-time faculty members begin classes at the new campus.
- 1966 COCC is accredited and a new 16,000-square-foot library opens.
- 1967 After Dr. Pence resigns, Dr. Frederick Boyle is named president. The college becomes Central Oregon Community College.
- 1971 Ponderosa Hall, a vocational-technical center, and Mazama Gymnasium open.
- 1982 The Pinckney Center for the Arts, named for instructor and administrator, Orde Pinckney, is formally dedicated.
- 1984 The Small Business Development Center opens.
- 1990 The Central Oregon Consortium for Higher Education (COCHE) begins offering selected four-year degrees through Oregon colleges and universities on the COCC campus.

- 1990 After Dr. Boyle retires, Dr. Robert Barber is selected as the third president in the College's history.
- 1994 The University Center opens, replacing COCHE.
- 1997 Redmond Campus opens.
- 1998 New 72,500-square-foot library opens. Original library converted to classrooms.
- 2001 The State Board of Higher Education selects Oregon State University to serve as the managing partner of the state's first branch campus.
Manufacturing and Technology Center opens at the Redmond Campus.
OSU-Cascades Campus opens.
- 2002 Cascades Hall opens, housing offices and classrooms of OSU-Cascades Campus.
- 2004 Dr. James Middleton becomes the fourth president in the College's history.
- 2009 The Campus Center, including performance venue Wille Hall, opens in April. COCC receives voter approval for a $41.58-million bond measure to build five new facilities, ensuring eligibility for an additional $11.47 million in state funding.
- 2011 Building construction is completed for campuses in Prineville and Madras as well as the Jungers Culinary Center.
- 2012 COCC opens new state-of-the-art Health Careers and Science Centers on the Bend Campus including labs for programs in nursing, dental assisting, medical assisting, massage therapy, pharmacy technician, veterinary technician, biology, chemistry, geology and physics.

Facilities

The 201-acre main campus in Bend includes 25 buildings, incorporating 587,830 square feet. The 25-acre Redmond Campus encompasses three buildings, incorporating 54,299 square feet, including the Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center. The 38,000-square-foot Cascades Hall on the Bend campus opened in fall 2002. A 30,000-square-foot Campus Center, including a student dining facility and symphony practice hall, opened in August of 2009. Most College facilities are available for rent: 541.383.7780.

New Building Construction

Voters in the COCC District approved a bond measure in November 2009 for $41.58 million for construction, and the state of Oregon made available another $11.47 million for building projects. Buildings in Madras and Prineville were completed in fall 2011 and allow residents in Jefferson and Crook counties to have easier access to services and classes.

The Health Careers and Science Centers were completed for Fall 2012. The Health Careers Center houses the College's nursing, dental assisting, medical assisting, massage therapy, pharmacy technician and veterinary technician programs and provides modern lab spaces for these critical areas; the Science Center adds labs, classrooms, faculty offices and other student learning spaces. A technology center will be constructed on the COCC Redmond Campus and is targeted to open in fall 2014.

Facilities, continued

The Jungers Culinary Center opened for culinary classes in fall 2011. The state-of-the-art facility has three kitchens, a demonstration theater and a 60-seat dining lab. Funds for this project were provided through the COCC Foundation's capital campaign, a state grant and money from the COCC Capital Project Fund.

Computer Labs

Computer Labs are available to students and District residents.

- 37-station lab in the Barber Library
- 23-station lab in the Boyle Education Center
- 31-station lab in Pioneer Hall (student use only)
- 29-station lab in Cascades Hall (lab available to OSU and dual-admit students only)
- 21-station drop-in lab at the Redmond Campus
- 28-station drop-in lab/classroom at the Madras campus
- 58 public computer stations at the Prineville campus

Barber Library

The 72,500-square-foot Robert L. Barber Library is named for a former COCC president (1990-2004). It features wireless Internet access, public-access workstations, computer lab and a computer classroom. Students may check out laptops, ipads, digital cameras and other technology. There are other student services available in the library such as career advising and placement along with testing/tutoring. Info: 541.383.7560 or cocc.edu/Library

Barber Library features:

- Hundreds of thousands of full text research articles from scholarly electronic resources and databases—accessible via remote login 24/7 to all enrolled students.
- Access to more than 25 million items including e-books via the Orbis Cascades Alliance, a consortium of 37 Northwest academic libraries.
- Electronic document delivery available for items not held at COCC or Alliance.
- DVD and streaming video collections.
- Group study rooms.
- In-house gallery featuring local and juried art exhibits.
- Credit library courses and research support.
- Chat reference and research services.

Redmond Campus

A full range of educational opportunities are available at the COCC Redmond Campus, across from the Redmond Airport:

- Credit classes leading to a transfer degree
- Foundational credit classes for most degrees and certificates
- Academic advising, placement testing, career and job search services, proctored exams, tutoring and financial aid information
- Small business advising
- Customized business training
- GED, basic skills, adult high school diploma and English language learning
- Dual credit — earn high school and college credits
- Self-enrichment classes

COCC's Manufacturing and Applied Technology Center (MATC) is a multi-industry training facility where students can learn technical skills at their own pace and on their own schedule with the help of the skilled and experienced staff. The center specializes in skill development for individuals seeking employment in manufacturing.

Redmond Technology Education Center

At over 34,000 square feet, the two-story Redmond Technology Education Center will open in Fall 2014. The Redmond Technology Education Center will house the Center for Entrepreneurial Excellence Development (CEED), the Non-Destructive Testing and Inspection (NDTI) and a two-year degree option in Automotive Technology in Electronics and Diagnostics (TED).*

*Updated from print version

Business Development Center (SBDC) is also expected to have a presence in the building.

This Center will house nine classrooms, three computer labs, four skill labs, and several conference rooms.

For information about the Redmond Campus call 541-504-2900.

Madras Campus

The Madras Campus is a 10,000- square-foot facility that includes classrooms, a computer lab, a large community room and offices for faculty and administration. The campus is built on land donated to COCC by the Bean Foundation. Funding for the facility came primarily from the successful 2009 COCC bond measure, with additional money coming from Jefferson County and a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) grant. COCC offers a variety of credit and noncredit classes and comprehensive student services for area residents.

Prineville Campus

The COCC Crook County Open Campus in Prineville is a collaborative partnership between Crook County, COCC and OSU Open Campus-Crook County. This 12,000-square-foot facility includes seven flexible meeting rooms and classrooms and offers 72 computer stations with high-speed Internet access in the building and mobile computer lab. The campus was funded by a grant awarded to Crook County by the U.S. Department of Commerce Broadband Technology Opportunity Program, proceeds from the voter-approved 2009 COCC bond measure, and support from local contributions and other nonprofit organizations. The campus sits on land donated by Crook County. The partnership offers community college, university and OSU Extension Services courses and programs, workforce training, continuing education and community learning opportunities.

Adult Basic Skills

Through Adult Basic Skills, students can study to improve skills that will lead them to college credit programs, the GED Exam and work. Basic reading, writing and math classes are offered in Bend, Redmond, Prineville, Madras and Warm Springs. English Language Learning (ELL) classes are offered in Bend, Redmond and Madras. Students can also earn an adult high school diploma at COCC through an online program. Through the ABS programs last year, a total of 801 students were served.

The ABS office is located at the Bend Campus. For information, call 541.504.2950.

Programs of Study

COCC offers certificates of completion and four associate degrees: Associate of Applied Science, Associate of Arts, Associate of Science and Associate of General Studies.

Certificates of completion, which require one to four quarters to complete, prepare students for immediate employment or advancement in various fields. Certificate programs include

- Accounting
- Addictions Studies
- Apprenticeship
- Automotive Technology
- Computer and Information Systems
- Computer Aided Drafting (CAD)
- Criminal Justice
- Culinary Arts
- Dental Assisting
- Dietary Manager
- Drafting
- Early Childhood Education
- Entrepreneurship
- Forestry
- Geographic Information Systems
- Health Information Technology
- Juvenile Corrections
- Kitchen Prep
- Manufacturing Technology
- Marketing
- Massage Therapy
- Medical Assistant
- Nursing
- Office Assistant
- Pharmacy Technician
- Retail Management
- Wildland Fire

The Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degree trains students in applied career technical skills that prepare the graduate for immediate employment in the field. AAS degree programs include

- Addictions Studies
- Apprenticeship
- Automotive Management
- Aviation
- Business Administration
- Computer Information Systems
- Criminal Justice
- Culinary
- Early Childhood Education
- Emergency Medical Services
- Forestry Resources Technology
- Geographic Information Systems

- Health Information Technology
- Manufacturing Technology
- Massage Therapy
- Nursing
- Structural Fire Science
- Veterinary Technician
- Wildland Fire

Associate of Arts (AA) degree programs fit the needs of most students who intend to transfer. The AA degree meets AAOT (Associate of Arts, Oregon Transfer) lower-division general education requirements for all public Oregon universities and some private colleges. AA programs cover subject areas from anthropology to speech, and pre-majors such as pre-medicine, pre-dentistry and pre-veterinary.

The Associate of Science (AS) degree is individualized for transfer to a designated four-year college or university for a specified major, such as business, science, engineering or technology.

The Associate of General Studies (AGS) degree provides an alternative to pursue a broad, general education and accomplish personal educational goals. It is not transferable as a whole, and does not meet certification requirements for any career and technical area.

High School Options

Central Oregon high school students can earn college credit by participating in any of these COCC programs:

Concurrent Enrollment

To register for classes on the COCC campus, follow the "Getting Started" steps (cocc.edu/Future-Students).

Dual Credit

Some Central Oregon high schools offer college-level general education as well as career and technical education classes in the high schools, taught by high school instructors exclusively for high school students. Tuition rates are $15/credit. Contact your high school counselor for information on course options in your high school.

Expanded Options

High school juniors and seniors have the opportunity to take credit classes at COCC with no charge to them for tuition, fees, supplies and books (transportation to and from COCC not included). Check with high school counselor or ASPIRE coordinator for more information on eligibility requirements.

Student Services

CAP Center (Career services, Academic advising, Personal counseling and Placement testing)

The CAP Center provides services to support COCC students to achieve their educational goals and to prepare graduates for family-wage employment.

Info: 541.383.7200

Career services

COCC offers students the following career services: assistance for exploratory students in choosing their academic goals; support for students who are looking for employment while they attend COCC; and services to support students who are approaching graduation to conduct a professional job search.

Academic advising

New, degree-seeking students are assigned an academic adviser during their first term at COCC and meet regularly with their adviser to work on their educational plan, degree requirements, schedule planning, problem solving as well as graduation, transfer and career preparation.

Personal counseling

Counseling assists students who are faced with personal issues that impact their college performance. Services are provided by professional, licensed counselors in a confidential setting at no cost to enrolled students.

Placement testing

COCC offers the ACCUPLACER placement test to students for course placement purposes. The ACCUPLACER system is a computer adaptive test that is College Board approved and designed to assess current skills in reading, English and math.

Student Services, continued

Career/Job Search services

- free career-planning and job-search workshops
- credit courses in career planning and effective job-search strategies
- electronic job-posting website and jobs bulletin board
- Career Services Coordinator available

Tutoring and Testing Center

Tutoring services are free to COCC students for the COCC courses in which they are currently enrolled. Tutoring in 26 subjects is offered in a variety of formats at the Bend, Redmond, Madras and Prineville campuses. There are also tutor-led study groups for some key courses.

Info: 541.383.7539

The Testing Center's services are available to students (Bend, Redmond, Madras and Prineville campuses) and community members (Bend and Redmond campuses only) needing academic, professional and standardized testing. PearsonVUE/GED Testing is available via computer on the Redmond campus exclusively.

For a current list of tests offered, visit cocc.edu/Tutoring-and-Testing or call 541.383.7538.

Disability Services

COCC strives to make available to all students, the opportunity for an excellent and rewarding education. The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 provide federal guidelines which help the College ensure equal access to students with qualifying, documented disabilities at all of its

Continuing Education

Community, Business and Professional Education

Central Oregon Community College's Continuing Education division provides skill-specific noncredit programs and services throughout the District. With a composite of services, COCC is able to efficiently offer expanded opportunities for noncredit instruction appropriate to businesses, professionals and individuals.

Small Business Development Center

COCC's Small Business Development Center (SBDC) supports business vitality through no-cost, one-on-one, confidential business counseling, a yearlong Small Business Management program and practical, hands-on workshops. The SBDC continues to exceed goals in providing these business support services throughout the College District. Small Business Development Center services are available to anyone who owns or operates—or is considering starting—a small business. The businesses comprise a complete spectrum of business stages, from start-up to mature companies. For information, call 541.383.7290.

Customized Training

Central Oregon Community College creates, coordinates and delivers quality, customized employee training to public and private sector businesses. The training is high quality, cost effective and results oriented. COCC works with businesses on computer skills, supervisory and leadership training, Spanish in the workplace and specific trainings designed to fit industry needs.

Community Learning

Explore the possibilities with hundreds of noncredit classes for adults. Lifelong learning is based on the belief that people are learners at every age and are entitled to pursue educational opportunities meaningful to them.

COCC offers hundreds of noncredit classes through Community Learning. Students may develop skills and new interests through enrichment classes such as photography and cooking; get into shape with yoga and other fitness classes; enhance job skills or even develop a new career.

For more information about Continuing Education, call 541.383.7270 or visit online, cocc.edu/ContinuingEd.

COCC Foundation

The COCC Foundation is a separate, nonprofit corporation organized in 1955 to assist the College, its students and faculty through the development of private resources.

The Foundation provides this assistance by managing a variety of funding vehicles:

- Named endowed scholarships established in memory or honor of a donor
- Planned giving through the Heritage Society
- Raising funds through private and public partnerships

In 2012-2013, the Central Oregon Community College Foundation awarded more than $1 million in scholarships. A full scholarship in 2012-2013 was $3,400. Out of 800 first time Foundation Scholarship applicants, 200 students were awarded scholarships. One hundred students received renewal scholarships.
